What is the PCCCA?

Since 1964, Presbyterian camp and conference leaders have gathered for fellowship, education, and the mutual support of their ministries. This group is called the Presbyterian Church Camp and Conference Association. In 2008, The Presbyterian Church in Canada endorsed PCCCA as the recognized international association for the camps and conference centres of the denomination. Our sites are now partners in ministry with the camps and conference centres of the Presbyterian Church (USA).

This organization now serves all 150 of the Presbyterian camps and conference centres in Canada and the United States. PCCCA is an advocate for these important ministries. It also seeks to equip leaders for ministries of discipleship, community building, and the care of Creation. You can go to www.pccca.net to learn more about how PCCCA supports our camps and conference centres.

THE CAMPS AND CONFERENCE CENTRES OF THE PRESEBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA

A wide variety of programmes and facilities are offered by your camps and conference centres. Some provide summer camp opportunities, while others offer programmes year-round. Most of these sites also have facilities that are the ideal place for your next church or family gathering.

For over 80 years, the camps and conference centres of your denomination have made a difference in the lives of summer campers, conference participants, and retreat guests. These vital ministries need your support during these challenging financial times. You can help them grow by attending programmes, by booking retreats, and by making contributions that will sustain these “sacred spaces.”

To learn more about the facilities and programmes offered at these sites, please go to the BookARetreat.com website. There you will find the searchable directory of all the Presbyterian camps and conference centres in Canada and the United States.
