Join us in the beautiful Pacific Northwest for an event focused on intergenerational connections in ministry!

GATHERING AS ONE will explore the means by which we can build upon and enhance intergenerational connections in our camp and conference ministries, as well as connect us in deeper ways to our congregations and other partner ministries.

Research shows that intergenerational experiences are important not only for the formation of faith in our young participants, but for adults, families, and communities as a whole. Intergenerational learning connects all ages and generations together to learn with and from each other, build community, pray, and share faith. The key is that everyone is learning together in a shared faith experience.

We will explore together a different “Sabbath Practice” each day of the conference. These practices: Hospitality, Prayer, Service, Retreat, and Storytelling; will guide our work in intergenerational ministries. These practices will provide a common language and a common way to connect with our God and with each other as we gather as one.
